INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this National policy is to outline the expectations of the Ministry of Education, Employment and Gender Affairs (the Ministry) on how complaints about schools, staff related complaints from students, parents or the public should be dealt with by Government schools. The expectations in this policy reflect international best practice and are based on standards agreed by the Ministry.

AIMS

Initial concerns, where possible should be dealt with effectively without the need for formal procedures. However, the aim of this policy and accompanying guidance is to provide a method for the resolution of formal complaints that should not undermine efforts to resolve concerns early on. An effective Complaints Procedure will:

- Encourage resolution of problems by informal means wherever possible.
- Be easily accessible and well publicised.
- Be simple to understand and use.
- Be impartial.
- Establish time-limits for action, which keep people informed of progress.
- Ensure a full and fair investigation by an independent person where necessary.
- Respect people's desire for confidentiality.
- Address all the points at issue and provide an effective response and appropriate redress, where necessary.
- Provide information to senior management teams to inform service improvement.

POLICY STATEMENT

- The Ministry values good home/school relations and therefore expects schools to have in place procedures to deal with complaints relating to the school and to any community facilities or services the school provides. This also means seeking to resolve any concerns or complaints promptly to the satisfaction of all concerned.

- Feedback from parents about what schools do well or not so well is welcomed. Feedback will be carefully considered to inform improvements in policy and practice accordingly.
- The Ministry expects schools to treat all concerns and complaints seriously and to publicise for parents and others about the school's procedures for dealing with complaints. In return, we expect parents and other complainants to behave respectfully towards all members of the school community. In particular, any disagreement with the school should not be expressed inappropriately or in front of students.

School Guidance for Dealing with Complaints

(APRIL 2016)

Overview

- 1 Parental complaint procedures are currently outlined within the 'Education Department Handbook, Chapter 4: Section N: 4.47.
- 2 Whilst the majority of schools already have a complaints policy in place, the Ministry of Education Employment and Gender Affairs (The Ministry of Education), together with the Department of Education Services (DES) wish to strengthen procedures in an attempt to bring consistency in the way that complaints or parental concerns are dealt with. This document is intended to help schools prepare a complaints procedure if they have not already done so, or to review their existing procedure.
- 3 A model school based policy statement for parents is outlined in Annex A.

Part 1: General Principles for dealing with Complaints

Dealing with Complaints – Informal Stage:

- 1 Taking informal concerns seriously at the earliest stage will reduce the numbers that develop into formal complaints.
- 2 Concerns ought to be handled, if at all possible, without the need for formal procedures. In most cases the class teacher or the individual dealing with the initial concern should be able to resolve the issue. Staff should be aware that all concerns and or complaints must be brought to the attention of the Principal for his/her knowledge and input.

Dealing with Complaints – Formal Procedures:

3. The formal procedures will need to be followed when initial attempts to resolve the issue are unsuccessful and the person raising the concern remains dissatisfied and wishes to take the matter further.
4. The Principal is responsible for the operation and management of the school complaints procedure. The Principal must know and be aware of all concerns or complaints that are made against the school and or any member of staff.

Investigating Complaints:

5. It is suggested that the person investigating the complaint at each stage:
 - Establishes what has happened so far, and who has been involved.
 - Explores the nature of the complaint, what remains unresolved and what would resolve the situation.
 - Meets with the complainant or contacts him/her.
 - Interviews those involved in the matter.
 - Keeps notes of the interview.

Resolving Complaints:

6. At each stage in the process it is important to look for ways in which the complaint can be resolved. It might be sufficient to acknowledge that the complaint is valid in whole or in part. In addition, it may be appropriate to offer one or more of the following:
 - An apology.
 - An explanation.
 - An admission that the situation could have been handled differently or better.
 - An assurance that the event complained of will not recur.
 - An explanation of the steps that have been taken to ensure that it will not happen again.
 - An undertaking to review school policies in light of the complaint.

Time-Limits:

7. Complaints need to be considered and resolved as quickly and efficiently as possible
8. An effective complaints procedure will have realistic time limits for each action within each stage.

Part 2: The Formal Complaints Procedure

The Stages of Complaints

An efficient complaints procedure will have well-defined stages. This policy embraces the following five (5) stages in the complaints process:

- Stage 1 (Informal), complaint heard by a member of staff.
- Stage 2 (formal), complaint heard by Principal
- Stage 3 (formal), complaint heard by Senior School Improvement Officer (SSIO)
- Stage 4 (formal), complaint heard by Senior Customer Services Manager (SCSM)
- Stage 5 (formal), complaint process reviewed by the MEEGA

Managing and Recording Complaints:

9. All staff dealing with complaints are required to record the progress of the complaint and the final outcome. A complaint may be made in person, by telephone, or in writing. An example of a complaint form can be found in Annex B.
10. Ensure that the complainant and the school have the same understanding of what was discussed and agreed. A brief note of meetings and telephone calls can be kept and a copy of any written response added to the record.
